

1 Remember the story

Answer in your own words. Look back at the story if you want.

1 What did Rivky like about Chani's news?

2 Why did she first avoid saying she was sad?

3 What feelings did Chani describe?

2 Fact or guess

Read each sentence. Circle Fact if the story shows it for sure.
Circle Guess if it is only an idea someone has.

- | | | | |
|---|--|------|-------|
| 1 | Chani was moving with her family. | Fact | Guess |
| 2 | Being sad meant Rivky wanted the new home to be bad. | Fact | Guess |
| 3 | Rivky would miss their time together. | Fact | Guess |
| 4 | A person may have only one feeling about an event. | Fact | Guess |
| 5 | Chani was excited and worried. | Fact | Guess |
| 6 | The mothers did not promise a visit every Sunday. | Fact | Guess |

Write one fact and one guess from your own day.

3 Think and write

Write what is true for you, or write about a made-up person. You do not have to share anything private.

- 1 Invent an ordinary change that could bring two different feelings.

- 2 Write one sentence naming each feeling without canceling the other.

- 3 Choose one caring action that fits the situation without making an impossible promise.

6 Say it out loud

Practice these out loud, or whisper them. Then write what you would say in your own words.

1 "I'm glad for you, and I will miss you."

2 "You can be excited and worried."

3 "We can ask the grownups what plans are possible."

7 Draw the moment

Draw two invented paper dolls with different coats. Beneath them, write two feelings that can exist together. This is a paper drawing only.

8 Try another scene

An invented boy is moving from a beginner class to the next class. He likes what he will learn and feels sad about leaving his familiar teacher. Write a conversation in which both feelings are heard and he chooses one reasonable way to say goodbye.
